Nervous, Weak Woman Soon All Right

"I had regular shaking spells from nervousness," writes Mrs. Cora Sanders, of Paragould, Ark. "I was all run-down and cramped at my time until I would have to go to bed. After my first bottle of Cardui, I was better. I kept taking Cardui and soon I was all right. The shaking quit and I did not cramp. I felt worlds better. I gave Cardui to my daughter who was in about the same condition and she was soon all right."

CARDUI

Thousands of women testify Cardui benefited them. If it does not benefit YOU, consult a physician.

STILL NECESSARY

There are many who argue that shorter hours of labor are the cure for unemployment. Sometimes the politician who arises and stirs the air with his cry of shorter hours for the working man is hailed as a great social servent. Give us a 30 hour week, he cries, and many now idle will be put back to work.

We are not agree with such a claim. To us it appears that it you force a thirty hour week and keep an American wage standard, industry will go broke, and no one will have a job . . . not even the politician.

And, there is a deeper point at stake. People should not get the idea that this is not a world of hard work. Our great nation was built upon the rocks of energy, hustle and determination.

People should not be encouraged to seek the "easy" way. We have been taught that DO LITTLE ROAD DOES NOT CROSS PROSPERITY BOULEVARD. It's the living truth.

Work til the job is done. Those who keep their eye on the time clock will always be "one of the hands." There is no substitute for elbow grease and mental effort. Despite all the pithy arguments of the orators, work and plenty of it is still necessary.

EDUCATION

Since this is commencement week in Appomattox county schools, it might be well to remind our many graduates that EDUCATION goes on after school days and ever enlarges our horizon.

Albert Edward Wiggam, author and lecturer, recently laid down the following attributes of an educated man:

He keeps his mind open on every question until the evidence is all in.

He always listen to the man who knows.

He never laughs at new ideas.

He cross examines his day dreams.

He knows the value of good habits and how to form them.

He knows his strong point and plays it.

He knows when not to think and call in an expert to think for him.

You can't sell him magic.

He lives a forward looking, outward looking life.

He cultivates love of the beautiful.

—From studying that list, it is easy to see that the real job lies ahead for the graduate.
